EDGARDO HERNAL,
PRENTICE MASON,
BUFORD PETEET, and BOZIDAR KELIC,

defendants herein, together with others known and unknown to the grand jury, knowingly devised, intended to devise, and participated in a scheme to defraud and to obtain money and property, by false representations, pretenses and promises, from lenders engaged in the business of issuing mortgage loans for the purchase of residential property, including First Magnus Financial Corp., Accredited Home Lenders, Inc., Argent Mortgage Company, Midwest Funding Bancorp, American Home Mortgage, Long Beach Mortgage Co., First Franklin Financial Company, Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., (hereinafter referred to collectively as "lenders"), and in furtherance thereof, used the United States mails, and other interstate carriers, and interstate wire transmissions which scheme is further described below.

3. It was part of the scheme that from in or about August 2004 until in or about May 2008, defendants caused to be issued approximately 150 fraudulent mortgage loans, from which the defendants obtained and caused to be obtained more than $95 million in fraudulent mortgage loan proceeds from mortgage lenders for themselves and others known and unknown to the grand jury.

4. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, TOWNSEND and GWENDOLYN JACKSON purchased and caused to be purchased residences, individually or through nominees, including defendants DAVID JACKSON, MASON, PETEET, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC, and FELTON, among others.

5. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON and TOWNSEND and others solicited defendant GAROFALO and other new home builders, as well as other sellers, to sell their newly-constructed and existing residences to nominees at inflated prices.

6. It was further part of the scheme that defendant GAROFALO and other sellers agreed to pay defendants BROWN, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND and MOSCATO finders fees and commissions upon the sale of the properties, knowing that a portion of those funds were to be paid to the nominees to complete the purchases of the newly-constructed residences.

7. It was further part of the scheme that defendant GAROFALO, along with other new home builders and sellers, agreed to inflate the sale prices of their residences so that defendants BROWN, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND and MOSCATO could receive real estate commissions or finders fees that ranged from approximately five percent to as much as thirty percent of the sales price of each residence.

8. It was further part of the scheme that defendant BROWN, individually, acquired several of the residences through the use of false information including stolen social security numbers and other forms of personal identification without the knowledge or permission of the owner of the identification information.

9. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE,

GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND, and others recruited nominees, including defendants DAVID JACKSON, MASON, PETEET, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC, and FELTON, among others, to buy the residences with promises of “no money down” and “cash back at closing,” if the prospective purchaser agreed to act as a nominee. The nominees were also promised that the properties would be rented out by defendants BROWN, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON and TOWNSEND or their agents; that they would not have to make any mortgage payments in connection with the residences; and that further, their names would be removed from the title after approximately twelve months. Based on those promises and representations, defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND, and others persuaded a number of individuals to act as nominees to buy multiple residences (the “BROWN residences”), including defendants DAVID JACKSON, MASON, PETEET, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC, and FELTON, among others.

10. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND, and others referred the nominees to loan originators including defendants ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, SPENCER, and others so that mortgage loan application packages for the nominees could be prepared.

11. It was further part of the scheme that defendants ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, SPENCER, and others prepared and caused to be prepared fraudulent mortgage loan application packages on behalf of the nominees buying the BROWN residences, which packages contained fraudulent loan applications, among other documents to ensure the nominees qualified for loans. The mortgage loan applications were fraudulent in that they contained a variety of false statements designed to induce lenders to issue mortgage loans to nominees who were not otherwise qualified for such loans, including, false statements regarding the nominees' employment, income, assets, liabilities and intention to occupy the premises as a primary or secondary residence. In addition, the loan applications failed, in some instances, to disclose that nominees had, in a short span of time, purchased multiple residences and had obtained mortgages for these residences from other lenders.

12. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, FELTON, TOWNSEND, ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, and SPENCER and others created and caused to be created false verifications of employment ("VOEs"), false accountant letters, false verifications of rent ("VORs") and leases to support the false statements in the loan applications regarding the financial status of the nominee including the nominees' employment and income, and false verifications of deposits ("VODs") to support the false representations in the loan applications regarding the amount of money and source of the deposits in the nominees' bank accounts.

13. It was further part of the scheme that defendant FELTON and others, as tax practitioners, prepared and caused to be prepared false documents claiming that they had prepared tax returns for nominees well-knowing the false statements in these documents were material to the lenders' decisions to issue mortgage loans to the nominees, and were made for the purpose of inducing the lenders to issue loans to individuals who were not always qualified for the loans.

14. It was further part of the scheme that Alan Robinson, being a licensed notary public in the State of Illinois, notarized documents on behalf of defendant BROWN and the nominees well-knowing the false statements in these documents were material to the mortgage lenders' decisions to issue mortgage loans to the nominees and were made for the purpose of inducing the lenders to issue loans to individuals who were not always qualified for the loans.

15. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, TOWNSEND, MOSCATO, DEFOURNEAU and GAROFALO and other new home builders submitted and caused to be submitted loan application packages to mortgage lenders containing, among other things, documents that failed to either disclose that commissions or finders fees were being paid to defendants BROWN and GWENDOLYN JACKSON, or that nominees were being paid with proceeds from the real estate transactions, well-knowing that false statements and omissions in these closing documents were material to the mortgage lenders' decisions to issue mortgage loans to the nominees. The false statements and omissions on the closing documents were made for the purpose of inducing the mortgage lenders to issue loans to individuals who were not always qualified for the loans.

16. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, FELTON, TOWNSEND, DEFOURNEAU, ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, SPENCER, DAVID JACKSON, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, MASON, KELIC, and PETEET, among others, submitted and caused to be submitted loan application packages to lenders containing, among other things, the false documents referred to above, including, the false loan applications, VOEs, VODs, VORs and, accountant letters and leases, well-knowing the false statements in these documents were material to the lenders' decisions to issue mortgage loans to the nominees, and were made for the purpose of inducing the lenders to issue loans to individuals who were not always qualified for the loans.

17. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, LOVE, ADAMS,

TOWNSEND, and GWENDOLYN JACKSON paid loan originators, including defendants ELLINGTON and HARRIS, and nominees including defendants FELTON, MOSCATO, DAVID JACKSON, MASON, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC and PETEET among others, using the proceeds from the real estate transactions.

18. It was further part of the scheme that defendant DEFOURNEAU, being an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Illinois, represented the nominees at several of the real estate closings at the request of defendants BROWN and LOVE, knowing that the real estate closing and mortgage documents contained false representations material to the lending decisions, including, false claims that the nominees were going to live in the BROWN residences and further that the nominees were not being paid to purchase the property.

19. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, TOWNSEND and GWENDOLYN JACKSON provided and caused to be provided down payments, earnest money checks, and funds used by the nominees for the real estate deals which falsely represented the nominees as the source of the funds, when in fact, the nominees had not contributed any funds to the purchase of the residence. These false representations about the source of the funds were made to deceive the lenders by creating the false impression that the nominees were financially committed to the transaction.

20. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, FELTON, GAROFALO, TOWNSEND, DEFOURNEAU, ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, SPENCER, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, DAVID JACKSON, MASON, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC and PETEET received the proceeds of mortgage loans that lenders issued to nominees on or near the date of the real estate closing of the BROWN residences sales and used the loan proceeds to enrich themselves and to buy and sell additional residences.

21. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON and TOWNSEND and others including their associates, friends and relatives resided in the BROWN residences without making mortgage payments as required by the lenders, thus causing the loans obtained by the nominee buyers to go into default.

22. It was further part of the scheme that defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, FELTON, GAROFALO, TOWNSEND, DEFOURNEAU, ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, SPENCER, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, DAVID JACKSON, MASON, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC, and PETEET, and others, known and unknown to the grand jury concealed, misrepresented, and hid, and caused to be concealed, misrepresented, and hidden, the existence of the scheme, the purposes of the scheme, and the acts done in furtherance of the scheme.

23. As a result of the fraudulent acts of defendants BROWN, ADAMS, LOVE, GWENDOLYN JACKSON, FELTON, GAROFALO, TOWNSEND, DEFOURNEAU, ELLINGTON, HARRIS, SLOAN, THURMAN, CAMPBELL, MOSCATO, SPENCER, DAVID JACKSON, MASON, JEAN HERNAL, EDGARDO HERNAL, KELIC and PETEET, and others known and unknown to the grand jury, the lenders issued mortgage loans to the nominees in an amount totaling more than $95 million and incurred losses of approximately $19 million on the mortgage loans because they were not paid by the nominees causing the residences to be foreclosed and resold for amounts less than the outstanding mortgage loan balance.
